In a great many creative areas, if you're looking to have a job performed the right way, chances are that you need look no further than The 21st Century Media Alliance.

Top 46 Overall Player Rankings

By Russ Cohen/Sportsology

1) Connor McDavid - 6-1, 190 - C - Even if he suffered a season-ending injury, this ranking stays the same.
2) Jack Eichel - 6-2, 195 - C - He would be the first overall pick in any other draft in the last 6 years.
3) Dylan Strome - 6-3, 187 - C - He was improved more than any other player on my list since last season.
4) Noah Hanifin - 6-2, 205 - D - He has a very high ceiling.
5) Pavel Zacha - 6-3, 214 - C - He has all the tools.
6) Ivan Provorov - 6-0, 201 - D - He has very few weaknesses.
7) Zach Werenski - 6-2, 214 - D - Has had a great year so far.
8) Mitch Marner - 5-11, 163 - C - If he was taller, he'd be higher up on the list.
9) Kyle Connor 6-1, 183 - C - A well-rounded game.
10) Timo Meier - 6-1, 209 - RW - A fun player to watch.
11) Lawson Crouse - 6-4, 212, LW - I'm not as impressed with him as others are.
12) Mikko Rantanen - 6-4, 209 - C/W - Doesn't get talked about enough.
13) Mathew Barzal - 6-0, 181 - C - There hasn't been a lot of buzz surrounding him.
14) Jeremy Roy - 6-0, 183 - D - Rising up the charts.
15) Nick Merkley - 5-10, 187 - C - Underrated player on some lists.
16) Travis Konecny – 5-10, 17 – C – Love his speed.
17) Colin White - 6-0, 183 - C - Clutch goal scorer. Had a great U-18 to prove this.
18) Thomas Chabot - 6-2, 179 - D - A rising talent. Could move up.
19) Brock Boeser - 6-1, 192 - RW - Had a good USHL Top Prospects Game.
20) Daniel Sprong - 6-0, 192 - RW - A terrific offensive talent.
21) Thomas Novak - 6-0, 181 - C - A real showman on the ice.
22) Oliver Kylington - 6-0, 174 - D - Doesn't have a lot of offense in his game.
23) Yevgeni Svechnikov 6-3, 205 - LW - A hard worker.
24) Ryan Pilon - 6-2, 212 - D - His offense is emerging.
25) Jordan Greenway - 6-5, 223 - LW - Could go higher. A real force.
26) Jake DeBrusk - 6-0, 176 - LW - Consistent player.
27) Jansen Harkins - 6-1, 181 - C - Really good skater. Can win a foot race to loose pucks.
28) Brandon Carlo - 6-5, 185 - D - He has a lot to prove to me.
29) Blake Speers - 5-11, 185 - RW - Great wrist shot.
30) Paul Bittner - 6-4, 202 - LW - The Crookston, Minnesota, native knows how to stay ahead of the opposing defense. He has a pretty wrist shot.
31) Jakub Zboril - 6-2, 185 - D - More offense than defense.
32) Jeremy Bracco - 5-9, 173 - C/RW - He plays smart. Has great hockey I.Q. Great U-18 performance.
33) Jack Roslovic - 6-1, 182 - C/RW - Right handed shot. Versatile. NTDP guy. Piled up the points in the U-18. Committed to Miami University.

Top 46 Overall Player Rankings

34) Denis Guryanov 6-2, 183 - RW/LW - Gets to pucks quickly in the corners to setup scoring chances. Good passer. Solid wrist shot.
35) Filip Chlapik - 6-1, 183 - C - Has a fast, hard shot. Slick skater. Great one-timer. Dangerous on the power play.
36) Joel Eriksson Ek - 6-2, 185 - C -Will score down low. Sometimes plays the 4th line in Sweden in the regular season. Plays strong defense too.
37) Roope Hintz - 6-2, 183 - C/RW - Versatile, creates separation from the defense,
38) Cooper Marody - 6-0, 176 - C - Flying under the radar. Has a lot of tools.
39) Dima Timashov - 5-10, 187 - W - Quick shot. Offensively gifted. Starring in the Memorial Cup.
40) Mackenzie Blackwood - 6-4, 200 - G - Blackwood used to have Aaron Ekblad patrolling the crease area and had a nice playoff run in 2013-14.
41) Callum Booth - 6-3, 196 - G - Had some nice stretches for Quebec this year including some important playoff starts as well.
42) Jeremy Lauzon - 6-0, 180 - D - Hot second half. Good in the offensive zone. Very good speed. Excellent passer. This is a very deep draft.
43) Gabriel Carlsson – 6-4, 183 - D - Defensive player. Not much offense in his game. Good skater.
44) Daniel Vladar – 6-5, 185 – G – Chicago Steel. Will get stronger over time, but for now, he has the size and ability that GMs want.
45) Maxim Tretiak - 6-3, 225 - He has a bloodline you can't ignore. Had a great playoffs. Contract in Russia is one more year.
46) Nicolas Meloche - 6-2, 198 - D - Has two-way ability and is hard to play against.

2015 NHL Free Agency Preview

With names such as Washington D Mike Green, Nashville C Mike Ribeiro, New York Rangers RW Martin St. Louis, Chicago C Antoine Vermette, Pittsburgh D Paul Martin, Chicago C Brad Richards and Anaheim D Francois Beauchemin near the top of the list of available players, it's tempting to dismiss this class as the "Who's Who of Who Was." But there are some real difference-makers in the mix, just not very many of them.

Perhaps the biggest of them, G Devan Dubnyk, solidified Minnesota as a Cup contender after his acquisition from Arizona. While the Wild have a lot of money tied up at the position, they're in no position to wave goodbye to their new star netminder, but he'll be the hottest entity on the market if they do.

Nashville D Cody Franson is one of the rare highly-targeted players still in his prime, but his lukewarm success with the Preds proved that he needs the right situation to truly succeed. Boston C Carl Soderberg is big and a late bloomer, but borderline as a second-line player. Anaheim LW Matt Beleskey is entering his prime, but doesn't have a long track record of explosive success. Pittsburgh D Christian Erhoff has demonstrated his all-around value provided that he's on a good team.

2015 NHL Combine Snippets

By Russ Cohen/Sportsology

Listen to Connor McDavid here: http://soundcloud.com/russ-cohen/connor-mcdavid-at-the-2015-nhl-combine

He is his own entity at this point. As for the combine as a whole, it is really growing. It has gone from a handful of media to 75-100 at this point. Connor McDavid spoke first. Two years ago when I covered a game of his in Erie, PA he was was already used to a lot of media: just not this many people.

"It's a good problem to have," said McDavid.

He said his V02 test went well. Prospects were tested today. That and the Wingate was a lot for guys to do on the same day as they had done in the past.

Jack Eichel wasn't thrilled with his new potential future boss, Tim Murray. The Sabres GM told the media that Eichel considered himself the best player in the draft. Those meetings are private and Murray took that note public. Eichel has a ton of confidence. What is he supposed to say?

Dylan Strome is the wild card here. When I was the first to list him third in the rankings, I caught a lot of static from naysayers. Now he is getting talked about as the logical third selection. I'm used to it. Strome is the most improved player of the trio. Eichel is the most physically developed and McDavid is the best.

Importance Of Top-Level Players

As a team sport by and large incapable of devolving into the often-selfish "Me Ball" of the NBA, the NHL is rightfully held up as exemplary of true team play. However, does this tendency devalue the effect that true mega-stars have on the ability to win titles?

FantasyDrafthelp.com decided to find out, in an attempt to ascertain exactly how important it is for teams to hit on their picks in the NHL Entry Draft. First, we identified the most decorated player on each Cup winner and found almost all of them to be no-brainer first-ballot Hall of Famers. Here's who's won the Stanley Cup over the past 25 years, along with the aforementioned Hall of Fame players:

1991: Pittsburgh: Mario Lemieux
1992: Pittsburgh: Lemieux
1993: Montreal: Patrick Roy
1994: New York Rangers: Mark Messier
1995: New Jersey: Martin Brodeur
1996: Colorado: Roy
1997: Detroit: Nicklas Lidstrom
1998: Detroit: Lidstrom
1999: Dallas: Brett Hull
2000: New Jersey: Brodeur
2001: Colorado: Roy
2002: Detroit: Lidstrom
2003: New Jersey: Brodeur
2004: Tampa Bay: Martin St. Louis
2006: Carolina: none
2007: Anaheim: Chris Pronger
2008: Detroit: Lidstrom
2009: Pittsburgh: Sidney Crosby
2010: Chicago: Jonathan Toews
2011: Boston: Zdeno Chara
2012: Los Angeles
2013: Chicago: Toews
2014: Los Angeles
2015: Chicago: Toews

 Either Drew Doughty or Jonathan Quick seems likely to qualify for this status.

A few notes pop out when examining this list:

^ Only the Carolina Hurricanes of 2006 don't fit this trend – strangely, only two years after the Detroit Pistons managed a once-in-a-generation megastar-less title team in the NBA.

^ First of all, the majority of names on this list appear two or more times, which is amazing. And that doesn't even count someone like Hull, who is on the list as Dallas' most decorated player from 1999, but isn't listed for the legendary '02 Red Wings.

^ Think of the slam-dunk Hall of Fame players who won Cups who were not even listed here: Steve Yzerman, Chris Chelios, Dominik Hasek, Joe Sakic, Jaromir Jagr, Scott Stevens, Evgeni Malkin, Patrick Kane, Duncan Keith and Ray Bourque, among others.

Best Of The WHA Hall Of Fame Blu-Ray Review

By Russ Cohen/Sportsology

I never had a chance to see more than a few highlights, articles and maybe an occasional news feature on the WHA when I was growing up. In New York, yes, they had the Raiders for a short time but they never got any real headlines to speak of. However, I always yearned to see more about the Houston Aeros, Winnipeg Jets, Edmonton Oilers, Cincinnati Stingers and New England Whalers and with this new Blu-Ray you can do just that.

This is 300 minutes of hockey delight. You get to see Wayne Gretzky's first professional goal in the Indianapolis Racers chapter, you see Gordie, Mark and Marty Howe, in action and there are some entertaining rare interviews of them as a group as well as just Gordie. The WHA had it all. They had some stars including "The Golden Jet" Bobby Hull, Gerry Cheevers and a young Mark Messier.

The interviews are fantastic but none better than Anders Helberg, Ulf Nilsson and Hull shooting the breeze and remembering the impact that the Swedes had on hockey and on reviving Hull's career. I learned so much and I've interviewed Nilsson and Hull before. Hull really steals the spotlight. He didn't try to. He just did. The highlights showed his greatness, even as a mid-30's player and his commentary makes you realize why he is one of the greatest hockey players ever.

Timothy Gassen did a great job of producing, writing and directing this project. The booklet talks about the league's run from 1972-1979 and adds even more depth to a very detailed disc.

For just $30 this is a piece of history that any hockey fan can appreciate. I didn't want to give away too much but every chapter will hold at least a few surprises to experts and more than that to admirers like myself.

You can order it here:http://www.whahof.com/purchase.html

Canada Cup 30th Anniversary DVD Review

By Russ Cohen/Sportsology

Thanks to a company called VSC, hockey fans can now get a terrific 5-DVD set to watch not only the '84 Canada Cup but the '81 Final, Canada vs. the Soviet Union, and it's a classic.

The interviews are terrific. There was a cool feature on Pete Peters and an interview with James Patrick talking about his terrific playoff series against the Islanders. Fun stuff. It's a time capsule. When you open it up, you'll get some terrific hockey and some fun commercials. Who knew that Sears was the official clothier of Team Canada for the tournament? I guess their polyester clothes went well with a mullet. Hearing Hewlett Packard provided the stats blew me away. It seems like they were the go-to before the Elias Sports Bureau became the staple.

The video quality is very good. It's not HD and nobody would have it in HD, so that's acceptable. The audio is perfect. To watch players like Vladislav Tretiak, Slava Fetisov, Alexei Kasatonov, Wayne Gretzky, Steve Yzerman, Mark Messier, Paul Coffey, Guy Lafleur, is amazing.

Watching these games reinforced the greatness of Gretzky: how he could play with anybody and make them better. Obviously there was no shortage of talent on those teams but no matter the linemate, it seemed like they had played together for a lot of years when many times that wasn't the case.

For $49.98 you get 14 hours and 28 minutes of pure hockey gold. Fans who lived through this era will love seeing some of their favorite players all over again. For the younger fans this may be the first time that they see full-game action of some hockey legends. I highly recommend it.

Preview Of FantasyDrafthelp.com Ultimate Hockey Stat For 2015-16

This is the FantasyDrafthelp.com statistic, the Ultimate Quantitative Baseline, based on the statistical principle of standard deviation from the mean. For defensemen and forwards, the relevant statistics are points, goals, assists, penalty minutes and plus-minus. For goalies, the relevant statistics are wins, shutouts, goals against average and save percentage (with the categories being weighted extra since there is one less). In each category, a spectrum is calculated from the best performance to the worst (on a per-game basis for forwards and defensemen). The numbers in each category are added together to create our statistic. An additional equalizer is injected to apply more points to each player at the positions of scarcer depth. What this stat truly does is to quantify beyond doubt how the stronger and weaker performances in each category add up to the absolute fantasy value for each player. As such, it establishes a baseline for performance that is more comprehensive than anything ever developed. A number over 300 is considered elite and 375 constitutes a perfect score. We have listed below the top rankings at each position for last season as well as the Top 35 overall.
