AND SO MUCH MORE

Draft Board Decoder

The FantasyDrafthelp.com draft board contains all the relevant information you need right at your fingertips.

* Players are color-coded by their value by round in a 12-team draft. 1st round is gold, 2nd round silver, 3rd round bronze, 4th round orange, 5th round light blue and 6th round green.

* The "EXP" column shows how players ranked on an "Experts Draft Board" compilation of other leading industry sources. The "UQB" column shows how each player performed on our standard deviation from the mean statistic in 2020 (stat details on Page 2). If a league is considered stronger than the other one at this position, it will have its initials listed (capital letters means much stronger, lower case means not so much).

* Relevant 2020 statistical categories are listed, along with rankings for each, the number of games played and rankings in the aforementioned "UQB" category (UQB numbers in bold indicate that the player was higher than the statistical mean in every one of the measured categories). $$ provides the dollar value for a mixed-value auction, while $ provides the dollar value for a single-league auction.

Evaluating Production Across a Spectrum: Lessons of our Proprietary Ultimate Quantitative Baseline Stat

Our "UQB" category (Ultimate Quantitative Baseline) on our draft board calculates the standard deviation from the mean in all relevant hockey categories. In simple English, imagine a spectrum going across from left to right, with negative numbers on the left side, a "zero" in the middle and positive numbers on the right.

We utilize this statistic for football, hockey, basketball, hoops and NASCAR as well as baseball. For baseball, we use all of the standard fantasy categories listed on the draft board to factor in for this statistical compilation. A player's performance in each category is plotted on one of these spectrums, with the most valuable players putting up most of their numbers on the positive side. Then, we add up the totals of every category, positive and negative. By using this tool, we can identify not merely how they performed, but how valuable their performances were in each category. Truly, this statistic serves as the ultimate baseline for the previous season's production.

2021 Don't Be That Guy

^ Don't Be That Guy who sleeps on (or holds unhealthy grudges against) last year's falloffs. Bargain shopping in the middle & late rounds can bring you a championship. So don't hate on Francisco Lindor!

^ Don't Be That Guy who enters the draft or auction with ironclad gimmicks. Rotisserie category "punting"! Only $1 apiece for all pitchers on the roster! All younger or all "proven" talent! The fact is that inflexible doctrines lead to failure, while nimble, think-on-your-feet reactive ability brings great success. Choose the latter approach and thank us when you're hoisting your trophy at the end of the year.

^ Don't Be That Guy who doesn't fully understand the nuances of your league's scoring system. Be fully prepared! Your choice of this draft guide is, frankly, an awesome start!

DRAFTOLOGY GUIDES

We publish a series of guides such as this through the year as a partnership between Sportsology, The FDH Lounge, FantasyDrafthelp.com and other entities under the banner of The 21st Century Media Alliance. Fantasy Racing (late January), Fantasy Baseball (mid-March), NFL Draft (mid-April), NHL Entry Draft (mid-June), NBA Draft (mid-June), Fantasy Football (late July), Fantasy Hockey (mid-September), Fantasy Hoops (mid-October).

Suggested League Guidelines

Unless you are a first-time participant, you have either played rotisserie baseball (a game in which players accrue points based on their performance in different categories) or fantasy baseball (a game in which different achievements earn various amounts of points). Here are our recommended formats for each (keeping in mind that for each format, if you have less than 10 owners, you should utilize a single-league format — and regardless of anything else, use a $100 Free Agent Acquisition Budget, or FAAB, to allow for distribution of players):

^ Rotisserie baseball: We urge you to use the standard 5X5 setup, in which BA, HR, SB, Runs and RBI are used for hitters and Wins, Saves, WHIP, ERA and Ks are used for pitchers (4X4 leagues drop Runs and Ks). For example, if you are in a 12-team league, the team scoring highest in each category earns 12 points, on down to the lowest team earning 1 point. Rotisserie baseball is traditionally associated more with the auction format, which works well here. Each player is given $260 of figurative money to purchase 23 players (2C, 1 1B, 1 2B, 1 SS, 1 3B, 5 OF, 1 CI, 1 MI, 1 Utility, 7 SP, 2 RP), with a 5-round standard serpentine draft afterwards to fill out a taxi squad.

^ Rotisserie/fantasy hybrid: This is probably our favorite form of competition, because it combines the traditional roto style with head-to-head play. Each week, you play against an opponent, competing in roto categories, with the winner of the most categories taking the victory (a tiebreaking category is established as a backup). Either an auction or the standard serpentine draft format works here.

^ Fantasy baseball: These categories should be used, with the number of points awarded for each in parentheses: Single (1), Double (2), Triple (3), HR (4), Hitter K (- 1), Run (1), RBI (1), SB (1), Win (10), Save (5), IP-ER (1), K (1). For this format, a standard serpentine draft is preferred.

Scott Pullins: "I have spent my career, both as an attorney, and otherwise, in roles where I help people break down and solve complex problems. After a consultation,
you will be put on the path toward resolution of your issue. I will either recommend that you retain me to resolve your issue, I will recommend a trusted

will offer some sometimes even free or at a lower cost than a

in order to assist you."

FantasyDrafthelp.com has long utilized our UQB, the Ultimate Quantitative Baseline, as one tool for evaluating fantasy players in a variety of different sports. Now the sister brand The FDH Lounge is adapting the concept for team sports. Here is our look at where the 30 MLB teams stand coming into the 2021 season. Teams are measured in a variety of categories: the most recent version of our power rankings, a formula based 50% on our power rankings & 50% on each team's strength of schedule, OBP, OPS+, FIP, ERA+, Pythagorean record, SRS, Run Differential and an Offseason Ranking. Obviously, the lower the cumulative number, the better. We have broken the teams into different tiers every time that there is a 10-point gap between one team's cumulative number and the next.

2021 Mock Draft Analysis

ROUND 1: Clearly Samm is not concerned about Frankie Lindor's 2020 season nor his change of leagues. Jake was intrigued by LeMahieu's tri-eligibility.

ROUND 2: Turner and Rendon provided good value here. The pitchers started to flow off the board after none went in Round 1.

ROUND 3: Three Yankees in three rounds for Jake, who does at least know which team to raid.

ROUND 4: At this point, teams started going stronger for dual eligibility.

ROUND 5: The seal came off on the closers.

ROUND 6: Devers was a tremendous value at the end of the round.

ROUND 7: Grandal and Chapman rounded out the Top 72 overall on the FDH board.

ROUND 8: Berrios and Corbin were interesting bookends of upside on either side of the round.

ROUND 9: Arozarena will be an amazing value for Jeff if the huge '20 breakthrough was for real.

ROUND 10: The back-to-back picks of Gallo and Sano illustrated that power with less-than-optimal contact is

2021 Fantasy Overview

^ Here's what we said a year ago: "Let's face it: even before the Coronavirus Crisis, this was shaping up to be a very unpredictable season." Nailed it. As we thought might be possible, MLB apparently changed the baseballs to make HR rarer (ALLEGEDLY) after changing them to make HR more plentiful in the second half of 2015 (ALLEGEDLY). However, there was much more continuity in the overall dynamic from 2019 to 2020 than there was from 1980 to 1981, which marked the last baseball season to be started, stopped and resumed.

^ Stolen bases are extremely scarce and with home runs still close to an all-time high, speed is a far, far more precious commodity than power.

^ In terms of the thinnest positions, C/2B/SS are all moderately deep and equal in terms of depth.

^ As we've noted the last four years, in what is kind of a counterintuitive note in the game these days, the increasing presence of strikeouts has somewhat diminished the importance of top power pitchers. The top 19 pitchers on our board averaged more than a strikeout per inning last year and there are many others on the board who duplicated this feat. Aside from 2014-15, when the numbers were close to the same, strikeouts have spiked every season since 2005. For context: strikeouts per game were 12.61 in 2005 and were 17.36 in 2020.

^ Position eligibility is something that we focus on more than many of our peers and the Joe Maddon-ization of the game continues to trickle down to fantasy. The plethora of two-position, three-position and even four-position players is now remarkable.. Every position that you save with a pick like that frees you up to go "best player available" in the late rounds when value will accrue at certain positions.

Tracing Offense In Baseball – From Before The Steroid Era Until Now

We at FantasyDrafthelp.com have been tracing offensive trends in baseball since we opened shop in 2006 and even longer than that, as part of the Drafthelp.com mothership previously. But the 2006 season stands out in particular when it comes to our track record, because FDH Director of Research Nate Noy indicated that there would be consequences statistically in terms of the new amphetamine testing.

Of course, “greenies” had been a well-established part of the game for several decades and Nate predicated that less-alert players (keeping in mind that even hyper-cafeinated drinks would not come close to matching the effects of speed) would be far less likely to be able to keep up with the high heat. As the chart to the right indicates, he was absolutely right, with KO/Gm rising from 12.61 in 2005 to 17.23 in 2019, a monstrous jump in just 14 seasons!

Beyond that correct prediction, however, we wanted to keep digging in light of the crash of offense in baseball in 2014. How much, exactly, had batting fallen off since the steroid era? And what had been the ebbs and flows of the game going even further back?

We created an FDH offensive metric (the first column of the chart) by adding totaling up the spreads of the bolded categories (HR/Gm, Runs/Gm, BA, ERA and WHIP) going back to “The Year of the Pitcher” (and the year before baseball split into divisions for the first time ever, 1968. As such, we found that 2014 was the 45th-highest season for offense in this era – but the bounceback was coming. Call it the juiced ball effect, Statcast or whatever you want, but, paced primarily by an explosion in taters, by 2019 offense had incrementally moved back to the 19th-highest total. Clearly, baseball has had a few distinct eras in terms of offensive production since 1968: 1968-72 (a strong pitching era, with 1970 as an outlier), 1973-92 (a moderate offensive era with 1976, 1981 and 1987 as outliers), 1993-2000 (the first half of the steroid era, which built to a crescendo), 2001-09 (the second half of the steroid era, with offense receding slightly in the reverse of the previous period), 2010-14 (much less offense than the steroid era, similar to 1973-92 aside from 2014 being a pitching-dominated slight outlier) and the 2015-20 rebound of homer-dominated offense (which has not sent scores soaring to the steroid era levels purely because of the explosion of strikeouts). What will the remainder of the 2020s bring? If the past is any indication, it'll be a pullback in the opposite direction of present trends.

DRAFTOLOGY GUIDES

We publish a series of guides such as this through the year as a partnership between Sportsology, The FDH Lounge, FantasyDrafthelp.com and other entities under the banner of The 21st Century Media Alliance. Fantasy Racing (late January), Fantasy Baseball (mid-March), NFL Draft (mid-April), NHL Entry Draft (mid-June), NBA Draft (mid-June), Fantasy Football (late July), Fantasy Hockey (mid-September), Fantasy Hoops (mid-October).

The 21st Century Media Alliance

What initially began in 2009 as a small coalition of like-minded growing New Media and creative organizations has flourished into a well-rounded creative juggernaut of more than two dozen entities that transcends the notion of traditional labeling. The 21st Century Media Alliance is an umbrella of cooperative companies and professionals that is pursuing many synergistic opportunities and projects. Possessed of varying yet often complementary skill sets, Alliance members are bound by their core principles of inventiveness, communication, pragmatism and dedication to their efforts and those of the larger group. In a great many creative areas, if you're looking to have a job performed the right way, chances are that you need look no further than The 21st Century Media Alliance.
