THE TOP 75 PLAYERS IN PRO BASKETBALL HISTORY

The NBA's 75th Anniversary has prompted a wave of Best-Of lists, but few with the substance to reinforce the selections.

Authors Rick Morris, Ben Chew and Russ Cohen came together to create a list of the top 75 pro basketball players ever, with evidence to justify the placement of each -- as well as biographical details, comparisons of various legends, little-known-but-interesting tidbits, what-if scenarios and much more.

Additionally, the book includes our year-by-year ranking of the top players in pro basketball and rosters for hypothetical "Olympic Dream Teams" had they existed prior to 1992. This is a book that is crafted for sports fans who are interested in learning more about the rich history of pro basketball. Available on Amazon.com

Evaluating Production Across a Spectrum: Lessons Of Our Proprietary Ultimate Quantitative Baseline Stat

Our "UQB" category (Ultimate Quantitative Baseline) on our draft board calculates the standard deviation from the mean in all relevant hockey categories. In simple English, imagine a spectrum going across from left to right, with negative numbers on the left side, a "zero" in the middle and positive numbers on the right side. We utilize this statistic for football, baseball, basketball, hoops and NASCAR as well as hockey. For hockey, we use all of the standard fantasy categories listed on the draft board to factor in for this statistical compilation. A player's performance in each category is plotted on one of these spectrums, with the most valuable players putting up most of their numbers on the most of their numbers on the positive side. Then, we add up the totals of every category, positive and negative. By using this tool, we can identify not merely how they performed, but how valuable their performances were in each category. Truly, this statistic serves as the ultimate baseline for the previous season's production.

2022-23 Fantasy Overview

^ As big scorers become ever more plentiful, paradoxically, the cutoff points on the top two tiers are higher – because fewer players are able to differentiate themselves above the rest in terms of points, goals or plus/minus.

^ Depth on defense is thinner on the top tier than last year, but through the rest of the tiers, depth is strikingly similar.

^ Depth on the top tier at goalie is deeper than usual, while the second tier, like last year, really dries up.

Suggested League Guidelines

We recommend that you hold your auction or serpentine-style draft with 10 owners, selecting 18 players (6 defensemen, 3 goalies, 3 left wings, 3 centers, 3 right wings). In case of an auction, use a financial system that allots an average of $11 per player.

Our preferred style of play is head-to-head roto, in which teams compete on a week-to-week head-up basis. Recommended categories are points, goals, assists, penalty minutes and plus-minus for forwards and defensemen and wins, least losses, shutouts, goals-against-average and save percentage for goalies. A rotating tiebreaker category should be utilized in the case of a 5-5 category tie. The starting lineup should consist of 2 goalies, 2 left wings, 2 centers, 2 right wings and 4 defensemen.

Don't Be That Guy

At your draft or auction, Don't Be That Guy who:

^ Doesn't properly understand his league's scoring system. Have the specific parameters down before you go to select your players.

^ Relies on a publication that doesn't have a draft board. Can you imagine such a thing?

^ Gets caught at the tail end of a run at a position: specifically, #2 defensemen should not be confused with the #1s.

^ Doesn't put enough emphasis on goal-scorers as opposed to assist-tallies. As is always the case in fantasy sports, scarcity leads to value.

2022 FDH Hockey Mock Draft Analysis

Round 1: It was a pretty chalky first round.

Round 2: That's a heck of a one-two punch at forward for Jon and Jeff.

Round 3: While other owners were busy diversifying, Jeff took another explosive forward!

Round 4: When Jeff finally goes D, he gets great value!

Round 5: Jeff does it again on D! Mike V with an interesting gamble on Marchand's health.

Round 6: Mike V ends up with one of the best values in the entire draft.

Round 7: Tavares, Malkin and Laine are much bigger names than you'd generally see here.

Round 8: Nylander, Giroux, Dahlin and Gostisbehere all have good upside for this round.

Rounds 9-12: Tarasenko, Klingberg, Hamilton, Karlsson, Fleury, Duchene, Kuznetsov, Jones: how the mighty have fallen!

THE TOP 75 PLAYERS IN PRO BASKETBALL HISTORY

The NBA's 75th Anniversary has prompted a wave of Best-Of lists, but few with the substance to reinforce the selections. Authors Rick Morris, Ben Chew and Russ Cohen came together to create a list of the top 75 pro basketball players ever, with evidence to justify the placement of each -- as well as biographical details, comparisons of various legends, little-known-but-interesting tidbits, what-if scenarios and much more. Additionally, the book includes our year-by-year ranking of the top players in pro basketball and rosters for hypothetical "Olympic Dream Teams" had they existed prior to 1992. This is a book that is crafted for sports fans who are interested in learning more about the rich history of pro basketball. Available on Amazon.com

Remembering Emile Francis

By Russ Cohen/Sportsology

Emile was my hockey friend. An NHL legend, most notably with the New York Rangers front office from 1964-1976. He was the head coach and general manager for much of that time. We would have long chats about hockey and baseball. Everything that he told me about hockey is in my books. There was a time I wrote to the Canadian Baseball Hall of Fame to try and get him inducted. He had a great baseball career.

Here's how it started. "The Cat" told me an amazing story. It started in the Canadian armed forces.

"I was in the army and I lied about my age. I told them I was 18 when I was 16. During my tour there as a Sargeant, we were in camp and everybody had to register and you had to show them a birth certificate," Francis revealed. "Here I was a Sargeant, and I knew I was going to get caught, so I got up and said to myself, 'I'm going to get the hell out of here. So, I took three steps, and the Sargeant Major said, 'Where the hell are you going?' I said I had to go to the toilet, and he responded, 'Get back in line, you can go to the toilet after. I was caught.

"I had to go in front of the Colonel and commanding officer, and when they asked why I lied about my age, I told them I wanted to help fight for my country. They didn't throw me out because they said I was doing too good of a job. But they stopped paying me as a Sargeant. They made $1.80 a day. We're going to pay you as a "boy" soldier, 60 cents a day. I had always been in charge of something in my life."

Francis was proud to talk about his baseball career.

"What happened all the years I played hockey, I played baseball for a living," Francis recalled. "We certainly didn't make enough in the winter to take summers off. When I was 24, I was also asked to be the manager of the team. So, I was a player/manager for ten years. I won seven championships with the North Battleford Beavers. I had everybody, Canadians, Americans, Blacks, Cubans. I think there were only six teams in the National League (NHL) when I retired and three of them made me offers to come to join their organizations. I had offers from Detroit, Chicago, and I selected the New York Rangers because I'd been with them as a player longer than anybody."

The man was bigger than life and I was lucky enough to hear some of his stories and he enjoyed talking to me. I'll miss him, but I'll never forget him. You'll never find a nicer man and a better promoter for the game of hockey. He was 95.
